Asset management strategy

The fund gained 1.02% in August, underperforming its benchmark, which ended the month up 1.19%. The portfolio's investment ratio and beta ended the month at 99% and 91% respectively, giving a yield to worst of 5.45% and a modified duration of 2.56.

The high-yield market put in a strong performance in August, racking up gains for the fourth month running. The market continued to benefit from its high level of carry, in excess of 6%, as well as the narrowing of credit spreads (down 11 bps to 378 bps). Meanwhile, European sovereign yields held steady, with German 10-year yields ending the month at 2.30%. US 10-year yields fell 13 bps to end the month at 3.90%, with Jay Powell indicating at the Jackson Hole summit that he was ready to cut rates at the Fed's next meeting in September.

The fund's monthly underperformance was entirely down to its underexposure to a small number of real estate operators whose hybrid bonds rallied very strongly (with CPI costing 9 bps of relative performance, Bostad 7 bps, SBB 4 bps and Heimstaden AB 3 bps). The fund was also penalised by the rally in Grifols (-3 bps of relative performance) as Bloomberg reported that Brookfield was preparing to acquire the company. Conversely, the fund benefited in the month from its exposure to hybrid bonds from real estate firms Aroundtown (+6 bps), Grand City (+5 bps) and Unibail (+2 bps).

By rating, the market's strong performance resulted in a 20 bps squeeze on spreads between BB-rated names and high-beta B-rated names. The spread between these two rating categories is now 160 bps – 70 bps narrower than the average over the past 10 years (230 bps). By sector, real estate once again outperformed very significantly (up 5.4% in the month and up 30.5% YTD), while healthcare and transport (up 1.4% each) also outperformed the high-yield benchmark.

The primary market had a very quiet month in August, in line with previous years. Only Accor issued a €500 million hybrid bond to replace an existing bond. The fund did not participate in this issue.

In terms of flows, the European high-yield market recorded inflows of €0.7 billion in August, bringing total inflows in the year to date to €9.8 billion. Inflows were also strong in the US: they reached $2.2 billion in August and the year-to-date total is already $19.6 billion.

There was little change in the fund's beta and investment ratio in the month. The high investment ratio reflects a constructive view of the high-yield market, while the beta highlights the portfolio's underexposure to distressed situations in the market. The fund's modified duration is in line with that of its benchmark.
